Being ready to play the game is one thing, preparing to play is another. Skidmore College Head Women’s Basketball Coach Darren Bennett would like to assist you in preparing to have a successful summer. As a former assistant coach at Temple, Syracuse and Michigan State, he is ready to share many of his fundamental skills with you about preparing to play physically and mentally. The morning session for grades 4-6 will focus on basketball fundamentals. The afternoon sessions will be broken down to focus on guard play and post play for grades 7-12. Prepare for an awesome summer now.

When the sun rises there will be two people playing the game of basketball. One of those people will be ready, they will have prepared for what is ahead. With the hours of time in the gym paid in hard work and sweat always on their mind. They will be ready for whatever comes their way. The other person will not be sure. They will stumble over the slightest of game situations. They will not have confidence in their game, or in their ability to help their team. You have a choice. Which player will you be when the lights come on?
